A Note From Pastor Mark

Pastor's
Corner

Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

One of the great confessions of God's presence with humanity is the story of Abraham and Sarah (Genesis 17:1-7).

In spite of great difficulty and big change, our ancestors Abraham and Sarah travel down a path of faith, showing a desire to live with an attitude of gratitude toward God. They trust God to guide them, and to make good God's promises. When God gives them a directive, they obey. When they are challenged, they look for God's wisdom. When God gives them a promise, they look forward to its completion.

In the meantime, they do not stop using their minds, trying to figure out how they can partner with God.

Sometimes they get it wrong, but they always believe God will show up. And God does show up.

Notice what Abraham does when God tells him that he and Sarah will have many descendants, including kings, and a land to possess (Genesis 17:6, 8, 16). Abraham bows clear to the ground, face down, in respect and humility. And what does God ask of Abraham and Sarah (Genesis 17: 1)?

He asks them to walk with him, in his ways, to be without blame (Psalms 22:24ff).

He asks them to know that he listens to cries for help, and that he cares about suffering, and that he alone has dominion over all the earth.

A descendant of theirs, King David, reminds the people to praise God, to honor and revere him, to seek and fear him, to turn and bow down before him, to kneel and worship him, and to remember what God has done (Psalm 22:23ff).

We, as Abraham's descendants, are to follow in our forefather's ways of obedience (Romans 4).

This does not mean only following the Law, for it is impossible as humans to be perfect. It means to have hope in God, in whom all things are possible.

It means to lay aside our ego and pride, and allow God to enter into our thoughts and actions.

- Have you made a gratitude list?
- Have you seen ways that you can trust God?
- What challenges do you bring to God in prayer?
- Look for opportunities during this Lenten season leading us to the cross and Resurrection Sunday to praise and honor God? When was the last time you bowed down in praise of our righteous God? To trust God, we must come to know him.

What points you to God? Make prayer, worship and reading the Bible a priority in your life. Bless you in your journey and walk with Christ.

Adult Education News

For the first two weeks in April we'll continue our Lenten journey through God's Ten Words of Grace--the Ten Commandments, focusing on commandments 4-7. How is it that we're to live with one another at home and in the world? How can we live with family and neighbors in healthy relationships? How can we make things go right when they so often go wrong? Come join us on Sundays at 10:20 in the new Music/Education room or on Wednesdays at 11:00 in the education room at the far west end of our building.

BIBLE 101 THANK YOU

A word of deep appreciation for all who joined us last Saturday for Bible 101. We've now had almost 200 people attend one of our three Bible101 classes during the past year. Awesome! If you participated and thought it helpful in deepening your understanding of the Bible, tell your friends. We just might offer it again!

Conversation About Germany 2020

More conversation about Germany 2020. Thus far 20 people have signed up for our Germany trip next year! This journey includes a visit to Oberammergau to witness the world-famous Passion Play and then a tour of Luther's Germany, visiting the many places our name-sake knew and loved. If you have any interest in coming along, join us for an hour on Sunday, April 28, following the 10:45 service. We'll meet in the adult education room in the "old" building, where Pastor Bill has his office. No requirement to sign up but this is a good opportunity to learn what our trip is all about.

Ministry Musings

In Luke 6:27-38 Jesus gives what the church calls “The Sermon on the Plain”. In this teaching, Jesus talks about blessings and woes as he does in Matthew. But he takes it one step further as he calls his listeners to love their enemies, to bless and give even to those who curse and take. That’s not easy! Our world professes the principle of giving to those who can appreciate the gift and reciprocate. But Jesus challenges us to a higher standard; to give to those who most likely won’t respond appropriately.

In this passage, Jesus is speaking not to the world in general, but to his followers, those who like us, the kingdom of God already belongs. They (and we) can expect to be treated unjustly by the world, yet they (and we) are to respond as those who are already shaped by our new identity as the children of God.

But how do they (and we) do that? How do we live differently from the world regarding our enemies?

Jesus give his listeners (and us) new lenses through which to view the situation. From Jesus’ point of view, we are the ones who are blessed because of our share in the kingdom, even though we may be hated and insulted. Our generosity is modeled after the mercy of God and comes out of that same abundance. We are to give, not from the position of one oppressed, but of one who already shares in God’s riches. By giving without expectation of repayment, we who are Jesus’ disciples can help to break the expected cycle of retribution.

As a child I was often told to live by the “golden rule”; do unto others as you would have them do unto you. That is a great way to love others and to treat people kindly. But Jesus radically challenges us to go one step further. We are to love our enemies and that is a very difficult task indeed. Our response is not to be based on their behavior. According to Jesus, enemies are not only to be forgiven, but like friends, are to be loved, blessed and prayed for. Enemies are on equal footing with friends. Turn your cheek, give your coat, hand over your shirt, to anyone...everyone, for all are equal, enemies and friends. Jesus’ call is to do good to those who do bad to us.

The dilemma...how do we move away from our natural instinct to match ugly word for ugly word, hurt for hurt, to make sure others know how bad they have been to us? How do we live our lives with grace and kindness instead of harboring hurts and anger or reacting with words or actions that seek to answer hurt with more hurt?

The invitation of Jesus is to live in a way contrary to our human nature, a way that is only possible as we live out of a new power, born from above. Faith in Christ is more than agreeing with doctrines, it’s a way of life that is different to our own inclinations.

Jesus revealed that the nature of God is to be merciful. The next time we want to react, we need to both remember God's great mercy and then call on his power to live as a people to whom God has shown mercy.

TAPESTRY: WEAVING DOING JUSTICE....

Tapestry: Weaving Doing Justice, Loving Mercy, Following the Spirit (Micah 6:8)

I am Bob Leshner, retired ELCA pastor, and my wife and I are members of SOTP. I am a spiritual director and trained in anti-racism. The two threads that have led my faith journey are spiritual growth and justice. I have been working with Pastor Mark and Donna Kelly to offer a group that weaves the similar journeys of SOTP members and others. The tapestry we come up with will be a surprise.

We would plan to start the group(s) in early May, meeting every other week, for an hour and a half, and run until the fall. Our time together would use doing spiritual practices, the stories of working for justice, and our faith journeys. As we do this the Spirit WILL weave our tapestry. Our goal will be a justice related action in the community that grows out of the stories and life we share together.

LITTLE LAMBS PRESCHOOL REGISTRATION

We started accepting registration for the 2019-2020 school year on February 1st. Our preschool has programs for children ages 2-4 (by September 1, 2019).

Children do not need to be potty trained.

Our class sizes are small (not more than 10-12 per class). 1, 2, 3 or 4 day classes are available to both members and non-members. For more information please contact Jill Gillming at LittleLambs@sotpmail.com or go to our website and look under FORMS for CLASS REGISTRATION.

SEND KIDS THE WORLD

As you know, www.sendkidstheworld.com Send Kids the World is an Internet site that has described kids with life threatening illnesses and injuries (parent submitted) and enabled you to reach out to them and send them encouraging postcards from anywhere and everywhere. The web site is currently on sabbatical leave since the web site needs to be completely overhauled. Since they are on sabbatical, so is our project of sending postcards to such children. Once the web site is back to being active, we will let you know.

This was a great way to share God's love for one another. As Ephesians 4:32 says, "Be kind and compassionate to one another." We very much appreciate your support in the past.

LENTEN OFFERINGS

The Mission Team has a number of responsibilities that include selecting charities to which special offerings are given. For the Lenten services the Team has chosen:

- ⇒ ELCA DISASTER RESPONSE: ELCA (Evangelical Lutheran Church of America) is the synod to which we belong and its mission is to bring God's hope, healing, and renewal to people whose lives have been disrupted by disaster in the U.S.A. and around the world.
- ⇒ HOME OF THE SPARROW is a local organization that provides transitional shelter and support for women and children.
- ⇒ TOGETHER WE'RE ELGIN are 4-5 dinners per year open to all in the Elgin area. Food is donated and cooked by local businesses, served by local residents, and supported by local donations.
- ⇒ AARRK GARDENS is a five year old non-profit farm in McHenry County that has grown food for local pantries, employed the homeless as workers, and aided in finding housing for some as well.

Easter Offerings will be split between:

- ⇒ PIONEER CENTER
- ⇒ TURNING POINT

Throughout the year, the Mission Team examines and chooses other charities as well.
