KID'S CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

A HUGE thank you to our amazing kids, parents, volunteers, and leaders who made this year's Christmas Program such a meaningful gift to our church family!

Your joy, hard work, and dedication beautifully reminded us Jesus truly is the reason for the season.

A NOTE FROM PASTOR MARK

Dear Ones,

As the New Year begins, Matthew 2:12 (the text for Epiphany, January 6) offers a quiet but powerful word of guidance: “Having been warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they left for their own country by another road.” The Magi’s journey did not end at the manger. Encountering Christ changed not only their destination, but their direction.

The New Year often invites us to keep moving forward on familiar paths—habits, routines, assumptions that feel safe because they are known. Yet this verse reminds us that faithfulness sometimes means listening for God’s warning and being willing to choose a different road. The Magi trusted that God’s guidance, even when it disrupted their plans, would lead them toward life and away from harm.

As we step into a new year, we do so with dreams, hopes, and perhaps fears. Matthew 2:12 invites us to pause and ask, where might God be redirecting us? What paths no longer serve love, justice, or faith? Following Christ may call us to leave behind old routes marked by fear, resentment, or complacency, and to walk a road shaped by courage, compassion, and trust.

The New Year is not just about turning the calendar, but about being open to transformation—returning home changed, and choosing, by God’s grace, another way forward.

May the peace of Christ, which surpasses all understanding, guard your hearts and minds as we step into a new year—hopeful, grateful, and filled with expectation for all that God will do among us.

In Christ’s love,

Pastor Mark

A NOTE FROM PASTOR RYAN

“When you pray, move your feet.”

This African proverb is a concise yet powerful reminder that our prayers, and by extension our faith, have to be about more than words or thoughts. The late Congressman John Lewis used this proverb as a mantra in his work on human rights and illuminated this proverb in his memoir, saying: "There is an old African proverb: 'When you pray, move your feet.' As a nation, we must move our feet, our hands, our hearts, our resources to build and not to tear down, to reconcile and not to divide, to love and not to hate, to heal and not to kill."

As we begin this new year in the season of hope we call Christmas, and slowly begin to turn our focus toward the deep reflection of season of Lent (and eventually the renewed hope of Easter), I invite us all to remember the true gift Jesus was and is for us, the way he built community among us, and the sacrifice he made.

On December 25, we once again celebrated the day God joined us as one of us, underscoring the profound intimacy of our relationship with God. We praised Jesus as being the light of the world. The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who lived in a land of deep darkness—on them light has shined. (Isaiah 9:2, NRSV)

There is a lot to feel down about in this world, and Jesus encourages us to take all our fears, anxieties, sufferings, grief, and struggles to him through prayer. That should be merely the start of our process. Our prayers represent a conversation in so many ways. They are, of course, a conversation between us and God, but if you think about it, they are also a conversation we have with ourselves. When we settle ourselves into a time of open reflection as we pray, we find that our mind begins to connect with our heart, revealing our deepest concerns, passions, and desires. It is those moments we should pay close attention to, for it is in those moments we can find ourselves inspired to focus our energy, resources, and time in ways that bring the light of Christ into a troubled world.

Each new year brings a new opportunity to try something new, experience some growth, and live deeper in our faith and relationship with God and our neighbors. We are the recipients of such an incredible gift in the person of Jesus and the sacrifice he made to be our Savior. May this be a year full of the kind of prayer that inspires us to move our feet for the good of all. Let us all honor Jesus as he deserves by finding the place we can make the biggest positive impact in this world, pray for God's guidance, and then step out in active faith.

I pray that this year brings health, peace, joy, and love to you, and that your year will be filled with all sorts of blessings as we work to bring the light of Christ to all the world, working for that day when all are loved and cared for. I pray that when you pray, you move your feet. And know that I am right here with you, praying and growing and working to be a better mover of my own feet. Together we can do this to the glory of God!

May the Lord bless you and keep you this season and always!

Pastor Ryan

MINISTRY MUSING WITH DONNA

It's hard for me to believe that it is a new year already. For me, 2025 flew by!

Recently, I was reminded of something I heard in a keynote address quite a few years ago that has stayed close to my heart and spirit. Fr. John Powell was speaking at a convention for a marriage ministry that my husband and I were part of for many years. I don't remember what he spoke about, or anything else that he said other than, "There is nothing you can do to make God love you any more than God already does, and there is nothing you can do to make God love you any less than God already does!"

What an amazing statement about the "overwhelming, never ending, restless love of God". Sometimes we get down on ourselves, wondering what our purpose is or if we are worthy of the love of God and other people. Some may picture God as one who keep tabs on every action, evaluating if the measure up. We believe other people are doing that and often we may wonder if God does the same. Frequently we imagine God to be like the people we know and the life we experience.

But as this new year begins, I hope you take to heart the statement Fr. John Powell made, "There is nothing you can do to make God love you any more than God already does, and there is nothing you can do to make God love you any less than God already does!" Read that again; sit with it. Hold it in your mind and your spirit until you believe it. Let the love of God flood you with the Spirit and always remember, you are God's beloved child and always will be.

BIBLE STUDY WITH PASTOR MARK

Join us for a 7-week Bible study on the Book of James, a practical and hope-filled guide to living faith in everyday life. James speaks to people who are asking real questions: Where do I belong? What is my purpose? How do I live my faith in a complicated world?

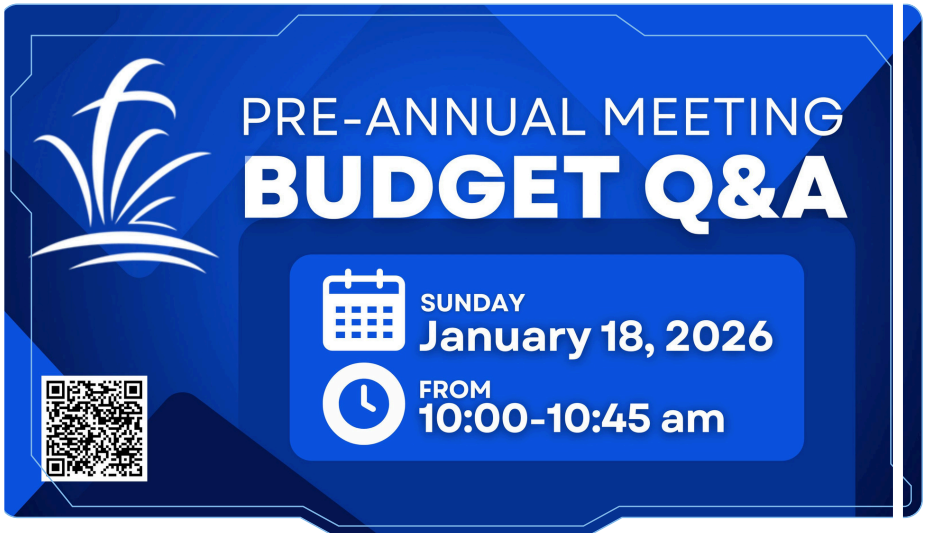

Together we will explore how faith shapes identity, guides our choices, forms our relationships, and calls us into meaningful action. This study is grounded in Scripture, honest conversation, and simple weekly practices that help connect God's Word to daily life.

All are welcome—no prior Bible study experience needed. Whether you are new to the Bible, returning after time away, or seeking renewed direction in your walk with Christ, this study offers wisdom, encouragement, and community. Come discover how God is already at work—shaping your faith, clarifying your calling, and sending you into the world with purpose.

THE GARDEN ROOM

Matthew 26: 36 Jesus said to His Disciples: Sit Here in the Garden with Me, while I go and pray.

Dear Friends in Christ: Jesus is also calling to each one of us. He is offering us an invitation to sit with Him and pray.

One Sunday morning this past fall, I was listening to one of Pastor Mark's powerful sermons that ended with a call to action. As I listened, an inner vision began to present itself. It was the idea of a room somewhere in the church, that would be set aside, apart from the sanctuary, that could provide a space for quiet reflection. A place to sit, listen, pray and just "BE" with Jesus.

Soon after that Sunday, I made an appointment to share this idea with Pastor Mark. During our conversation he affirmed, that he too, has envisioned a room used for this purpose for sometime. Pastor Mark suggested that the current Library would be the perfect room that could be used, and that the name could be changed from the Library to The Garden Room based on the scripture from Matthew 26:36.

It is the hope and prayer for the New Year of 2026, that the Garden room will provide a place where all may go to, for solace, peace and quiet reflection. A place where we may seek rest, renewal and rejuvenation. And most importantly, a place to sit and BE with Jesus, to be still and feel the great love and care Jesus has for each one of us.

The Garden Room will open beginning on the first Sunday in Lent, It will be available for your use from 8 -12:30 on Sunday mornings. There will be resources laid out to guide you in prayer and reflection which can be used at your discretion. There will also be a prayer box available for you to put prayer requests into. These requests will be prayed for each day of that week.

Please come to the Garden Room to pray, sit, and know that there is a friend named Jesus who wants to "walk with you and talk with you, and to tell you that you are His own, and the joy that you share as you tarry there, none other has ever know."
